

Peter Uihlein of Bradenton, Florida, finished eagle-birdie giving the crowd gathered for the 2005 Bobby Chapman one of the finest finishes in tournament history. Uihlein's 36-hole total of 133, 9-under par, gave him a one shot victory over fellow-Floridian, Armond Vongvanij. The 11th Annual Bobby Chapman Junior Invitational was hosted by the historic Country Club of Spartanburg on their ever-challenging 6,282 yard, par 71 golf course.

Uihlein and Vongvanij – better known as Bank to his fellow competitors – both tied the 18-hole scoring record of 64 in the final round. Uihlein came to the par 5 seventeenth two-back of Vongvanij. Uihlein reached the green in two, then stood over his eagle putt, knowing he Vongvanij was in at 8-under for the tournament. As he pushed his 15-footer towards the hole, it broke ever-so slightly and fell in, leaving the two friend's tied with one to play for Uihlein. A ten-inch approach at the 18th gave Uihlein a simple birdie putt and the win!

Finishing in third, two back of Uihlein, was South Carolina native Paul Woodbury. Woodbury made a great charge in the final round, firing a 6-under par 65 for the day, finishing the tournament at 6-under par. While Josh Gallman, of nearby Gaffney, South Carolina, was the top Upstate finisher at the event, finishing the competition at 2-over par, 144, tied for 12th.
